38.04.01 Economics  Master's Degree program International business
	Theory of sectorial markets 3 ECTS
Course/semester	Master's degree program, 2/3
Teaching staff	Assistant professor, Ph.D. in Economics V.M. Gilmundinov
Learning outcomes	To improve and enlarge the students' knowledge about modern methods of analysis for sectorial market structures and the latest results of the theory of sectorial markets according to taking measures of state sectorial policy.
Content	Subject and methodology of the theory of sectorial markets. Main conceptions of the entrepreneurship theory. Vertical control at the sectorial markets. Oligopoly markets: models of cooperative and non-cooperative strategic behavior. Dynamic models of company's strategic behavior. International trade: international agreements. State sectorial policy. State industrial policy.
Background knowledge requirements	Disciplines: microeconomics (advanced level), History and methodology of economic science.
Course structure	Lectures –36 hours, test, independent work –51h, exam – 27h. Total -108h.
Final assessment – examination	Point rating system: 0-24 F; 25-49 F; 50-72 D C-; 73-86 C B; 87-100 B+ A+. 60% – semester work, 40% – exam.
	Active methods of teaching: work in small groups, topic discussions, case-studies, exercises, tests. Test is performed in writing during the individual work.
Organization peculiarities of educational process and educational resources	The educational resources:  1. Avdasheva S. B. Teoriya organizatsii otraslevykh rynkov: Uchebnik M., 1998 311 s.: il.  2. Gil'mundinov V.M. Ekonomika otraslevykh rynkov: uchebmetod. kompleks [Elektronnyy resurs] /V. M. Gil'mundinov; Novosib. gos. tekhn. unt-t Novosibirsk: Izd-vo NGTU, 2014 1 elektron. opt. disk (CD-ROM) № Informregistra 0321304584 Zagl. s etiketki.  3. Tirol' Zh. Rynki i rynochnaya vlast': teoriya organizatsii promyshlennosti. V 2 t T. 2 / Zhan Tirol'; pod red. V. M. Gal'perina i N. A. Zenkevicha; [per. s angl. Yu. M. Dontsa, M. D. Fakirovoy] SPb., 2000 450 s.: il.